CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Our Philosophy

At CDPA, our clients are more than mere numbers; they are family. We have worked for many years to cultivate wonderful friendships with our clients. In fact, we have enjoyed partnerships with some of the same clients for 50 years.

The truth is, all accountants can add. And all accountants can prepare tax returns. What makes us special is the manner in which we perform our services. We truly care about our clients, and we want nothing other than to see them succeed. We realize that handling our clients' finances requires a great deal of trust; therefore, we are committed to doing so with the utmost professionalism, honesty, confidence and accuracy.

At CDPA, we are here not only to help you, but to mentor you so that you are a more informed and educated user of accounting information. We realize that times are constantly changing, and we are committed to staying up-to-date with industry knowledge as well as technology.

Our Objective

We are here to partner with our clients regarding their financial matters as we help them increase their financial worth, all the while giving them confidence that their financial futures are secure by providing world-class service by highly skilled team members.
